One of the great features of cedar, however, is it's easy to cut, saw, nail and glue. Do-it-yourself cedar siding is easy to do for those reasons, plus you're installing one relatively small piece at a time, rather than large, bulky sheets that are awkward to handle and install. Cedar siding is available in a variety of styles.

Cedar is soft. Unless the cedar has deep scratches, gouges or planer marks -- lines running perpendicular across the grain -- cedar should be sanded by hand. Power sanders remove material fast, almost too fast for finish work. If you do need to sand it with a power sander, use an orbital sander with 100-grit sandpaper.
